Rosa Farm Getaway

You've never had breakfast until you've had one served truly farm to plate – we're talking eggs straight from the chicken, homemade sausage made the farm's own wild boar, fruit right off the tree. It doesn't get more local or fresh than that. It's an experience like no other. And it's one you can have every morning if you so choose to take on a culinary retreat at Rosas Organic Farm. No waking up at the crack of dawn. No farm knowledge necessary. Rather, guests of the 85-acre farm go to soak up the tranquility of the countryside and learn a thing or two about organic cooking from chef Al. Located in Marion County (in the heart of Florida), the happy home to many a grass-fed cow, pig, and chicken, is open for one-off meals, overnight stays, or full gourmet weekends.
